Dear Amerant,

Thank you for considering me for the Undergraduate Intern Credit Analyst position.

My name is Leo Goldberg. I'm from Pinellas Park, Florida and I am a sophomore at the University of South Carolina Darla Moore School of Business with a 3.9 GPA. I am dual majoring in Finance and Risk Management with a Sustainability in Business Concentration. I chose the Darla Moore School of Business for the incredible opportunities offered by both students and faculty. From my first day in the business school, I aspired to join organizations that would help me grow professionally and personally.

To this end, I became the Group Head for the Real Estate, Gambling, and Lodging (REGAL) sector of the Carolina Fund Club where members participate in stock-pitch competitions and learn the introductory concepts to stock valuation. Through my involvement, I gained a better understanding of the trends and valuation techniques unique to these industries such as a Net Asset Value Model. This experience was crucial in preparing me for my school's highly selective Carolina Finance Scholar Program which aims to prepare admitted students for a top finance career through an advanced curriculum utilizing case-based coursework. Students in the program are assigned weekly, rigorous group projects that help develop real world technical financial skills. Through completing these projects, I have developed proficiencies in Excel and PowerPoint enabling me to create and present pro-forma income statements, DCF models, as well as other types of financial analyses and forecasts. My continuous involvement in challenging group projects has taught me how to be a team player who values others' inputs while simultaneously contributing my own.

Whether it be through my participation in Carolina Fund, the Carolina Finance Scholar Program, or any other endeavor, I constantly challenge myself to continue to improve my technical knowledge as well as my social ability to integrate into new organizations with the goal of contributing and improving them. My willingness to learn and my ability to work well with others will guarantee that no matter what team I am a part of, or what project I am assigned, I will always be a valuable and approachable teammate that helps contribute to the highest quality of work Amerant prides itself on.

My desire to be a part of Amerant has been further fueled by its commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion, sustainability, and employee wellbeing. I would be honored to join a team that prioritizes an environment fostering not only professional growth and excellence but health and balance as well. I eagerly await the opportunity to begin my finance career in the Credit Analyst position.

Sincerely,

Leo Goldberg
