Dear Deutsche Bank,

Thank you for considering me for the dbAchieve program in the Fixed Income & Currencies Division.

After the privilege of meeting Mariclare McEntire at on campus recruitment event, I learned about her role as an associate in CLO Syndicate for the Fixed Income & Currencies Division and instantly took great interest in Deutsche Bank's diverse culture and specifically the dbAchieve program.

I am currently a Carolina Finance Scholar and sophomore in the University of South Carolina's Darla Moore School of Business with a 3.9 GPA majoring in Finance and Risk Management & Insurance with a Sustainability in Business Concentration.

I chose the Darla Moore School of Business for the incredible opportunities offered by both students and faculty alike. From my first day in the Darla Moore School of business, I aspired to join organizations that would help me grow professionally and personally. To this end, I joined the Financial Institutions Group of the Carolina Fund Club where members participate in stock-pitch competitions and learn the introductory concepts to stock valuation. I became increasingly interested in the role capital structure plays, not only in stock valuation but in other Investment Banking advisory products such as M&A and leveraged buyouts.

In the highly competitive case competitions, I have participated in through the Gamecocks Consulting Club and its partnered companies, I found the greatest fulfillment in developing creative client solutions within a diverse team environment. My deepest interest lies within IB Corporate Finance Roles, specifically within a product team as it affords me the opportunity to combine my affinity for Finance with my passion for acting as a fiduciary advisor for clients.

In speaking with Mariclare, she emphasized the diverse and inclusive culture that inspired her to join the Deutsche Bank team. After learning of the success of Deutsche Bank's diversity initiatives and how they are an intricate part of the dbAcheive culture as well, I was left at ease knowing that if I were awarded an internship opportunity, not only would I be able to grow professionally, but personally as well by being a part of a diverse team where differences are embraced and considered a constructive and powerful force for growth.

I would be honored to be on your team and to have the opportunity to begin my career in high finance at Deutsche Bank through the dbAchieve program.

Sincerely,

Leo Goldberg
